THE STORM

“A perpetual storm strikes every hour. They call it the storm that came that kept on coming. There are whispers that the storm is man-made. As the lightning illuminates the night sky, people are beginning to talk; perhaps The StormCorp Shelter is not selling safety, but manufacturing fear.”

INFO

The Storm – Immersive Art Party (Tour Version)

Creative Producer: Mike Pony / Mike@unstabled.co.uk / 07462 787609

CONCEPT

The Storm is an immersive theatre and live art club-night set in a futuristic dance-club-storm-shelter. The central artwork in the event is an hourly digital storm by technology artists Playmodes. Storm audiences are asked to dress as survivors of an apocalyptic weather event, the story of which is told through an audio experience on entry to the venue. Once inside, audiences discover the story of The Storm through exploration of the site, bespoke visuals and character based story telling.

The event can be adapted to a range of venues, sites and contexts and expanded/contracted to accommodate a range of needs, from a one-room venue to a multi-space site.

CORE ARTISTS

The following artists form a core part of The Storm concept and additional artists/artworks are curated into the event based on location, budget and relevance. The event also requires a number of volunteer walkabout performers and costumed stewards, sourced and trained by Unstabled in collaboration with the venue.

Playmodes Audiovisual Research: The Storm (Barcelona)

FK Alexander: I Could Go On Singing (Glasgow)

Adam Electric: The Machine Legends (London)

Fat Butcher: Storm Visuals (London)

Joe Evans: Paper Monsters (Bristol)
